Courses combine the study of language structures with development of oral and written expression and knowledge of Italian culture.

Classes are held once a week and last 90 minutes. There are 14 classes in a course. The short courses consist of 7 lessons, and classes are held every other week.

Kindly note there shall not be any classes from 22 to 26 February .2027.

All our teachers are Italian native speakers, are qualified and have teaching experience. Italian is the language of instruction but, if necessary, Finnish or English are also used.

Course levels correspond to A1-C2 levels of the Common European Framework of Reference. You can find more detailed course descriptions on the institute's website.

Textbooks can be bought from Akateeminen kirjakauppa in the centre of Helsinki and are available before the courses start. In conversation courses or short courses, textbooks are not used; the materials are prepared by the teacher.
